

OneStopCodeShop2-ElectricBoogaloo

The anticipated return of bootcamper's favorite coding and development resource website. This sequel project introduces a new platform for students to share questions and resources over a forum or through a live chatbox.

Motivation

OSCS's first iteration enabled students to easily search for resources online, but it did not feature the ability to share these resources. We wanted to fill this gap and create a community for bootcamper's to maximize their learning potential.
